Techno CEOs set to Rendezvous at the Summit!

MONTREAL, February 5, 2008 – The Inter logiQ Network has announced that a record number of participants will gather in Tremblant from February 7 to 9, 2008 for the eighth annual CEO Vision event. “CEO Vision attracts more and more participants every year. This is a clear indication of a growing need among high-tech CEOs to take a moment to focus and to reflect on their business strategies”, stated Nicole Martel, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Inter logiQ Network.

“CEOs will spend three days discussing experiences and sharing ideas. For many, this event provides the ideal setting to establish long-lasting business relationships and profitable strategic partnerships”, added Nicole Martel.

Speakers, carefully chosen for their expertise, will address issues of concern to many executives. William M. Tatham, who founded his business in his basement and sold it 10 years later to Siebel for the tidy sum of $1.76 billion, will discuss leadership challenges, and Sean Wise, online host and industry advisor of CBC’s Dragon’s Den, will lead a panel of investors (VCs). Other speakers include Carl Yankowski, who led the Palm IPO ($1billion), Les Rubenovitch, Gazelles partner and business growth guru, and Denis Durand, senior associate at Jarislowsky Fraser for the past 21 years.

CEO Vision also provides a venue for confidential meetings with buyers, strategic partners, and work groups. In addition, as a direct result of a new reciprocity agreement with the New Jersey Technology Council (NJTC), this year’s three CEO of the Year finalists will have the opportunity to meet their American counterparts during their next convention, while the three NJTC finalists will have the opportunity to attend this year’s CEO Vision event.
